

Editorial

In an effort to make our Journal more readily consulted by Balkan botanists and to encourage early publication of new records of vascular plants in the Balkans, the Editorial Board decided to initiate a new series presenting new chorological information. This is important for the numerous ongoing projects in various countries such as the compilation of Floras, Red Lists, Red Data Books, floristic mapping, etc. We offer to authors the opportunity to publish their new chorological data under the series title New floristic records in the Balkans. For further details, please see p. 107 of this volume.
